Trapping in New Jersey

Thursday, October 10th 7PM – 8PM

Estell Manor Park Nature Center
109 Route 50 (South), Mays Landing 08330

Join NJ Fish and Wildlife biologist, Andy Burnett, for an interactive presentation that combines knowledge, opinions, and questions for attendee response interspersed with information on the state of regulated trapping in New Jersey.

The presentation will primarily focus on the benefits of trapping as a wildlife management tool with state-specific examples.

To register please call the Nature Center office at (609) 625-1897.
